THE SILVER WAR.

Agitation to be Made Everywhere Against the Gold Standard.

DENVER, COL., June 19 .- A meeting of the Colorado Silver Association was held here vesterday and was addressed by Francis G. Newland of Nevada, a member of the national silver committee appointed by the St. Louis convention, who has been in attendance at Washngton through the winter. He gave an account of the pending legislation and of the position of the parties and the administration and prominent politicians with reference to it. He urged the extension of the work on the national silver committee. the organization of a bi-metallic league under the presidency of Gen. Warner of Ohio, which is to act in co-operation with the bi-metallic leagues of France, England, Germany and Italy, and is to extend in thos countries the work of education by pamphlets, in the languages of the various countries, with a view of uniting the producing and agricul-tural classes with the political economists of those countries who have declared themselves in favor of the bi-metallic system in a war upon the mono-metallic gold standard. The meeting was one of great earnestness, and resolutions were adopted favoring free coinage and opposed to bullion redemption, and advocating the retirement of those Senators and Congressmen who vote for such a measure.

SHORTENING HARVARD'S COURSE The Reasons for the Proposed Reduction of Time.

Boston, Mass., June 19 .- The question of shortening the course at Harvard College will be brought up for discussion at the next meeting of overseers. In a general way the proposition has been made public, but in such garbled form as not clearly to state the methods of shortening the course which the faculty sets forth as follows: (1) That the number of courses required for the degree of bachelor of arts be sixteen; that when a student enters college there shall be placed to his credit toward satisfying the requirement of sixteen courses any advanced studies on which he has passed in his admission examination beyond the number required for admission, and (2) any other college studies which he has anticipated; that a student may be recommended for the degree in the middle as well as at the end of the academic year. In case the measures proposed should be adopted it is the purpose of the faculty to encourage the anticipation of college studies by students at the time of their admission and to facilitate the attainment of the degree of bachelor of arts in less than four years. The faculty further proposes to advise parents and teachers that eighteen years is a suitable age for entering Harvard College.

Pretty Well Civilized Already. PIERRE, S.D., June 19 .- When the firemen's parade formed yesterday at 10 o'clock the Indians from the Big Foot and the Hump bands, who had been invited to take part, rode up on ponies, painted and breech clouted, and swung in directly in front of the parade. The stylish Pierre City Band was crowded to one side, the Indians swooping through them with war clubs in the air. The officers of the day attempted to lead them to the rear, but were compelled to run to get out of danger. An interpreter was finally procured, the bucks were quelled, and upon promise of several fat beeves to kill directly after the parade they took their place in the rear. Once again during the parade the braves could not contain themselves and rode down the line on a run, scattering the compa-nies right and left. Last night the Indians held a big war dance, while medicine men of the tribe performed ceremonies to make their hose team win in the races today.

Madison, Wis., June 19.-There has been begun in the United States circuit court here the trial of three test cases on the outcome of which hinges the ownership of 22,000 acres of land, chiefly lying in Ashland county, the aggregate value of which exceeds $2,000,000. Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme Court came out from Washington to sit with District Judge Bunn during this important litigation.

What are known as the Omaha and the Wisconsin Central land grants intersect in Ashland county. The 22,000 acres involved in this litigation lie within the place limits of the Central company and the indemnity limits of the Omaha grant. Some time ago the question arose as to which company owned them, and the Secretary of the Interior ruled that they did not belong to the Omaha company because that company's grant had been satisfied with-

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE. Reciprocity.

HE SUGGESTS AN AMENDMENT TO THE PENDING TARIFF BILL TO MAKE PORTS FREE TO PRO-DUCTS OF AMERICAN NATIONS-BECOMMENDA-TIONS OF THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS.

The President transmitted to Congress today

the report and recommendations of the International Conference on "Customs Union." The report upon the "customs union" adopted by the international American conference is accompanied by a letter of Mr. Blaine to the President, briefly reviewing the proceedings of the conference, which declared that partial reciprocity between the American republics was not only practicable but must necessarily increase the trade and the development of the material resources of the countries adopting that system and it would in all probbility bring about as favorable results as those obtained by free trade among the different states of this Union. The conference recommended, therefore, that the several governments represented negotiate reciprocity treaties "upon such a basis as would be acceptable in each case, taking into consideration the special situations. conditions and interests of each country, and with a view to promote their common welfare."

"Only those," writes Mr. Blaine, "who have given the subject careful study realize the magnitude of the commerce of these sister nations. In 1888 the combined imports of Chili and the Argentine Republic reached the enormous sum of $283.127.698. The statistics of Chilian commerce for 1889 have not yet been received, but the imports of the Argentine Republic for that year were $143,000,000. These imports consisted in the greater part, of articles that could have been furnished by the manufacturers of the United States, yet in 1888, of the total of $283,000,000 imports, we contributed but $13,000,000, while England contributed $90,000,000, Germany $43,000.000 and France $34,000,000. "With our extraordinary increase in population, and the even more extraordinary increase in material wealth, our progress in trade with South America has been strangely hindered and limited. "In 1868 our total exports to all the world were $375,737,000, of which $53,197,000 went to Spanish America-14 per cent. 'In 1888 our exports to all the world were $742,368,000 (an increase of 100 per cent), while but $69,273,000 went to Spanish America, little more than 9 per cent, and the greatest gain ($9,000,000), has been noticed during the last two years.

WHAT TREATIES MIGHT ACCOMPLISH. "It was the unanimous judgment of the delegates that our exports to these countries and to the other republics could be increased to a great degree by the negotiation of such treaties as are recommended by the conference. The and fourth, that inebriety, accompanied by disorderly conduct, shall be punishable; chants engaged in the trade demonstrate the sellers of alcohol should be responsible strates beyond a question that in all classes of merchandise which we have long and successfully produced for export they are able to compete with their European rivals in quality and in price, and the reiterated statements that our Latin-American neighbors do not buy of us because we do not buy of them, or because we tax their products, has been annually contradicted by the statistics of our commerce for a quarter of century.

"The lack of means for reaching their markets has been the chief obstacle in the way of increased exports. The carrying trade has been controlled by European merchants who have forbidden an exchange of commodities. The merchandise we sell in South America is carried there in American ships, or foreign ships chartered by American commission houses. The merchandise we buy in South America is brought to us in European vessels that never take return cargoes, but sail for Liverpool, Havre, Bremen or Hamburg with wheat, corn and cotton. There they load again with manufactured goods for the South American markets and continue their triangular voyages, paying for the food they are compelled to buy of us with the proceeds of the sale of their manufactures in markets that we could, would upply if we controlled the carrying trade

NO DIRECT COMMUNICATION. "There is no direct steam ship communication whatever between the United States and the Argentine Republic and there are no direct panking facilities. The International American Conference has earnestly recommended the establishment of both; but reciprocal exchanges of tariff concessions will be equally effective in timulating commerce and in increasing the export of the products of which we have the argest surplus, not only to the progressive reoublic named, but to all the other American

"The conference believed that, while great profit would come to all the countries if reci-procity treaties should be adopted, the United States would be by far the greatest gainer. Nearly all the articles we export to our neighbors are subjected to heavy customs taxes; so heavy in many cases as to prohibit their consumption by the masses of the people. On the other hand, more than 87 per cent of our imports from Latin-America are admitted free, leaving but 12 per cent upon which duties may still be removed. But, mindful of the fact that the United States has, from time to time, removed the duties from coffee, cocoa, india rubber, hides, cinchona bark, dye and cabinet woods and other Latin-America products, our government may confidently ask the conces-

"The increased exports would be drawn alike from our farms, our factories and our forests. None of the Latin-American countries produce building lumber; the most of them are dependent upon foreign markets for their breadstuffs and provisions, and in few is there any opportunity or inclination for mechanical industry. The effect of such reciprocity would be felt in every portion of the land."

A WAY TO DO IT. In closing his letter the Secretary says: "Fifteen of the seventeen republics with which we have been in conference have indicated, by the votes of their representatives in the international American conference and by other methods which it is not necessary to define, their desire to enter upon reciprocal commercial relations with the United States; the remaining two express equal willingness could they be assured that their advances would be favorably considered. "To escape the delay and uncertainty of treaties, it has been suggested that a practicable and prompt mode of testing the question was to submit an amendment to the pending tariff bill, authorizing the President to declare the ports of the United States free to all the products of any nation of the American hemi-sphere upon which no export duties are imposed, whenever and so long as such nation shall admit to its ports free of all national, provincial (state), muasked. I mention these particular articles because they have been most frequently referred to as those with which a valuable exchange could be readily effected. The list could no doubt be Telephone Stocks - Pennsylvanis, 26 bid, readily effected. The list could no doubt be 29 asked. Chesapeake and Potomac, 74% bid, profitably enlarged by a careful investigation of the needs and advantages of both the home and foreign markets.

"The opinion was general among the foreign delegates that the legislation herein referred to would lead to the opening of new and profitable markets for the products of which we have so large a surplus, and thus invigorate every branch of agricultural and mechanical industry. Of course the exchange involved in these propositions would be rendered impossible if Congress, in its wisdom, should repeal
